PRODUCT SHEET · OBD

COMPANY · ONE LEADER

The On-Board Diagnostic

Two instruments, one read

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
One leader	Assessment and written debrief	One round	Individual	None. This is the entry point.

WHAT IT IS

CliftonStrengths and the EQ-i 2.0, read against each other rather than reported side by side, and written up as one document about how this person actually leads. Most assessment packages hand a client two reports and leave the synthesis to them. This is the synthesis.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Both instruments administered, with reading guides supplied in advance.
- The two sets of results are read against each other, not summarised in parallel.
- A single written leadership read is produced for the participant.
- A live debrief walks the participant through what the read means in their role.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- One written leadership document, not two assessment reports.
- Language for how they lead that holds up in their next hard conversation.
- The baseline every later engagement is built on.

BEST FOR

Any leader entering coaching, and any organisation that wants a read before it commits to a programme.

SCOPE AND RATE

INVESTMENT

Scoped and quoted on a call. A published rate applies for independent schools, nonprofits and public-sector teams.

Almost everything else in the catalogue assumes a completed OBD.

COMPANY · ONE LEADER

Executive Coaching

Six sessions, built on a read rather than an introduction

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
One leader	1:1 coaching	Six sessions, renewable	Individual	A completed On-Board Diagnostic.

WHAT IT IS

Retainer-based coaching for founders, operators and senior leaders. Because the OBD is done first, session one starts from a read of how this person leads rather than from an introduction. Renewable on completion.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Engagement opens from the OBD, so no session is spent on discovery.
- Six sessions run against the leader's live decisions, not a fixed syllabus.
- Work moves between two named modes, COACHING and CONSULTING, and the client always knows which one is running.
- The engagement is reviewed at six sessions and renewed or closed deliberately.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- Decisions made rather than deferred.
- A working read of their own leadership pattern under pressure.
- The option to renew, on evidence rather than habit.

BEST FOR

Founders stuck in decision loops, ops leaders scaling without structure, and new leaders in high-stakes transitions.

SCOPE AND RATE

INVESTMENT

Scoped and quoted on a call. A published rate applies for independent schools, nonprofits and public-sector teams.

COACHING is client-led. CONSULTING is expert-led. Most of the real work sits at the seam.

COMPANY · ONE TEAM

The Owner's Manual Workshop

A team turns its diagnostic data into something it can actually use

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
One team	Facilitated workshop	Three hours	One intact team	Participant OBDs, invoiced separately.

WHAT IT IS

A team takes its OBD data and writes personal Owner's Manuals: how each person works, decides, and wants to be approached. Then they swap them. The swap is the part that changes how the team works on Monday.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Participants arrive with completed OBDs.
- Each person drafts a personal Owner's Manual from their own read.
- The team exchanges manuals and works through what surprised them.
- The group agrees what it will do differently, in writing.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A written Owner's Manual per person.
- A shared vocabulary for friction that is currently unspoken.
- Agreements the team made itself, rather than rules imposed on it.

BEST FOR

Intact teams carrying friction nobody has named out loud.

SCOPE AND RATE

INVESTMENT

Scoped and quoted on a call. A published rate applies for independent schools, nonprofits and public-sector teams.

PRODUCT SHEET · DELEGATE

COMPANY · MANAGERS AT ANY LEVEL

Hand Over the Keys

A delegation seminar. Eight steps, ninety minutes, up to three hundred people

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Managers at any level	Seminar, virtual	Ninety minutes	Up to 300 participants	None.

WHAT IT IS

The DELEGATE framework delivered as a single seminar: define the win, establish the way, list the guardrails, expect the process, give the right support, agree on checkpoints, transfer ownership, encourage growth. Built for scale without becoming a webinar nobody acts on.

WHAT HAPPENS

- The eight steps are worked through in sequence, each with a live example.
- Participants apply the sequence to a delegation they are currently avoiding.
- Common failure points are named, including the ones that look like trust problems and are not.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A usable sequence for the next handoff, not a theory of delegation.
- One specific piece of work identified to transfer, with its guardrails written.

BEST FOR

Organisations where delegation is the bottleneck and the manager population is too large for a workshop.

GoodeStart

The first ninety days, done on purpose

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
The newly promoted	Cohort, with individual coaching	Ninety days, two to three hours a week	Cohorts of five to ten	A recent promotion into a leadership role.

WHAT IT IS

For the person who was excellent at the work and has just been handed a team. High-touch and in person, tailored to the individual and to how that organisation actually decides.

WHAT HAPPENS

- A dual-assessment baseline opens the programme.
- Four individual coaching sessions run alongside the cohort.
- A thirteen-week curriculum carries the group through the first ninety days.
- Live leadership labs put the material against real situations in the room.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A first ninety days spent deliberately rather than survived.
- A peer group at the same altitude, which most newly promoted leaders do not have.
- An individual development plan grounded in their own assessment data.

BEST FOR

Technical and professional organisations promoting strong individual contributors into management.

SCOPE AND RATE

COMPANY · EMERGING LEADERS

Building the Bench

Not whether your leaders are good, but how many deep you are

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Emerging leaders	Cohort	Six months	A cohort at the same altitude	None.

WHAT IT IS

A cohort of leaders at the same level drawn from different parts of the business. The question the programme answers is not whether your leaders are good. It is how many deep you are at each position.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Participants are drawn from across functions, not from one team.
- The CLUTCH frameworks are worked through against the organisation's own conditions.
- Cross-functional relationships form that the org chart does not produce on its own.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A named bench rather than an assumption about succession.
- Working relationships across functions at the level below the executive team.

BEST FOR

Organisations that can name their current leaders but not their next ones.

Executive Team Consulting

The table that sets direction for everyone else

AUDIENCE
Leaders of leaders

FORMAT
Ongoing consulting engagement

DURATION
A year, six-month minimum

GROUP SIZE
One executive team

PREREQUISITE
Participants must manage teams, not just direct reports.

WHAT IT IS

Sustained work with the executive team on how it decides and how it transfers ownership, using the 6C Decision Compass and DELEGATE. The prerequisite is deliberate: this is work about leading leaders.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Decision rights are made explicit across the team, in writing.
- Ownership is transferred down deliberately rather than by default.
- The engagement runs long enough to survive contact with a real quarter.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A decision architecture the team can point at when something stalls.
- Clarity about which decisions never needed to reach this table.

BEST FOR

Executive teams where everything routes through the same few people.

System-Wide Consulting

How work actually moves, rather than how the chart says it does

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Whole organisation	Diagnostic, then engagement	Diagnostic first, then a year	Organisation-wide	Opens with a diagnostic.

WHAT IT IS

The full CLUTCH Operating System installed across an organisation: decision rights, handoffs, meeting architecture, and how work moves between functions in practice.

WHAT HAPPENS

- A diagnostic establishes how the organisation currently decides and hands off.
- Decision rights and meeting architecture are redesigned against what the diagnostic found.
- The engagement runs a year, because structural change does not hold in a quarter.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- Decision rights and handoffs that match how the work actually moves.
- A meeting architecture that earns its time.
- Leadership infrastructure that does not depend on any one person.

BEST FOR

Organisations that have outgrown the structure that got them here.

SCOPE AND RATE

Keynotes

Eight talks, all built on material from the book

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Conference or all-staff	Keynote	One talk	Any	None.

WHAT IT IS

Eight talks, each drawn from CLUTCH. Matched to the room rather than delivered as a single set piece.

THE TALKS

- You Are the Bottleneck, signature talk for founders and senior leaders: why everything still runs through you, and how to hand it over for good.
- Twenty People and a Few Million Dollars, signature talk for founders and early leadership teams: the point where the habits that built the company start costing it.
- The Only Part Engineered to Slip, for founders and executive teams: why emotional intelligence is a mechanical necessity rather than a soft skill.
- Engine Light On, for leadership teams and conferences: the free diagnostic, run live in the room in about two minutes.
- Nobody Trains the Expert, for technical and professional organizations: why the best individual contributor becomes the most expensive bottleneck.
- Road Conditions, for public-sector and mission-driven teams: naming the conditions, then handing people the decision modes.
- Take Two Weeks Off, for a short-form stage: one question, eighteen minutes, no frameworks.
- No Average Brain, for schools, HR and people teams: what changes when systems stop assuming one kind of mind.

BEST FOR

Conferences, all-staff days and leadership summits.

SCHOOLS · ONE SCHOOL LEADER

Executive Coaching for School Leaders

Always one to one, and always starting from a read

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
One school leader	1:1 coaching	Ongoing, in bundles of six sessions	Individual	A completed On-Board Diagnostic.

WHAT IT IS

Coaching for heads, division heads, deans and department chairs. It can be bought two ways: the school engages the coach for a leader, or the leader engages personally. The work, the cadence, the confidentiality and the price are identical either way.

WHAT HAPPENS

- The OBD is completed first, so session one starts from a read.
- Sessions run against live decisions inside the school's own calendar.
- Confidentiality terms are the same whether the school or the leader is paying.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A leader who can name how they lead, not just what they manage.
- Decisions resolved rather than carried into the next term.

BEST FOR

School leaders in a new seat, or carrying a decision they already know and will not say out loud.

SCOPE AND RATE

INVESTMENT

OBD Standard $450 per participant, or OBD Upgrade $500. Executive Coaching Bundle, six sessions, $1,200 per participant.

AUDIENCE
Newly promoted school leaders

FORMAT
Cohort, with individual coaching

DURATION
Thirteen weeks, two to three hours a week

GROUP SIZE
Cohorts of five to ten

PREREQUISITE
A recent promotion into a leadership role.

WHAT IT IS

The first ninety days of a new school leadership role, run deliberately. Built for the person who was an excellent teacher or practitioner and now leads colleagues.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Scoping in spring, when the promotion is announced.
- Assessments and first individual sessions over the summer.
- Cohort work through the fall term, finished before the winter review.
- Off-cycle promotions start whenever the promotion did.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A first term spent on purpose rather than in reaction.
- A peer cohort across departments at the same moment in their careers.

BEST FOR

Schools promoting from within, which is most schools.

Building the Bench

The people who could step into a chair or dean role next

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Emerging school leaders	Cohort, in person or hybrid	A year	Five to ten participants	None.

WHAT IT IS

A year-long cohort for the faculty and staff who could take a team lead, chair or dean role next, built before the vacancy rather than after it.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Participants are drawn from across divisions and departments.
- The CLUTCH frameworks are worked against the school's own conditions.
- The cohort runs in person or hybrid across the academic year.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A named internal bench for the roles that will open.

CliftonStrengths for Faculty and Staff

Gallup-certified strengths work, built for a school's own calendar

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Faculty and staff	Workshop	A day	Faculty or staff group	None.

WHAT IT IS

Institutional strengths programming delivered by a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach who spent twenty years inside a school, which is the difference between a strengths workshop and a strengths workshop that lands with teachers.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Participants complete CliftonStrengths ahead of the day.
- The day works the results against the actual work of teaching and running a department.
- Departments leave with shared language rather than individual printouts.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A common vocabulary across a faculty or staff group.
- Strengths results that connect to the work rather than sitting in a drawer.

WHAT HAPPENS

- Both instruments administered with reading guides supplied in advance.
- Results read against each other and written up as one leadership document.
- A 1:1 debrief walks the leader through what it means in their role.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- One written leadership read.

Decision Rights and Governance

Most school conflict that looks like a personality problem is a decision-rights problem wearing a costume

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Senior teams	Working session	Session, scoped to the team	One senior team or cabinet	None.

WHAT IT IS

A working session on who decides, how, and why, using the 6C Decision Compass. Schools accumulate decision ambiguity faster than most organisations because so much authority is informal and historic.

WHAT HAPPENS

- The team brings live, unresolved decisions into the room.
- Each is walked through the Compass as a group exercise.
- Decision rights are written down, including the ones everyone assumed were settled.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- Decisions resolved in the room, not just a framework introduced.

For the chair or director who is still doing the job they were promoted out of

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE
Chairs and directors	Seminar and review	Ninety-minute seminar, plus review	Up to 300 participants	None.

WHAT IT IS

The DELEGATE framework delivered as a seminar, followed by a review of how roles are actually carved up. Department chairs are the most common casualty: promoted for excellence at the work, then given a team and no transfer of ownership.

WHAT HAPPENS

- The eight steps of DELEGATE worked through in sequence.
- Participants apply them to a responsibility they have not handed over.
- A review looks at role definitions as written against how they run.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- A sequence for the next handoff.
- Role definitions that match the actual work.

WHAT HAPPENS

- The talk or day is matched to the room and the moment in the school year.
- No Average Brain is the most frequent fit for school audiences: what changes when systems stop assuming one kind of mind.
- Full days combine a keynote with facilitated working time rather than stacking talks.

Strengths-Based Advisory Design

Built for the fifteen-minute conversation an advisor actually has on a Tuesday

AUDIENCE	FORMAT	DURATION	GROUP SIZE	PREREQUISITE

WHAT IT IS

The one item in the catalogue that is not about leadership, and the one nobody else offers. An advisory programme designed around the OWN framework and strengths, then trained into the advisors who will run it. Advisors deliver it. The design and the training are the service.

WHAT HAPPENS

- The advisory programme is designed around OWN and strengths.
- Materials are built for the real constraint: fifteen minutes, mid-week, with a student who did not ask to be there.
- Advisors are trained to deliver it themselves.

WHAT YOU LEAVE WITH

- An advisory programme the school owns and runs.

BUILDING LEADERSHIP SYSTEMS THAT RUN WITHOUT YOU

SHORT BIO

Matt Goode is an executive coach and the founder of Goode Design & Consulting, where he helps founders and leadership teams build neuroinclusive systems that scale without depending on any one person. He is the author of Field Tested (2024) and CLUTCH: How Leaders Build Systems That Run Without Them (2026), and a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach with 20+ years of experience across technology, government, and education.

LONG BIO

Matt Goode is an executive coach and fractional COO who helps founders, leadership teams, and schools stop being the bottleneck – building neuroinclusive leadership systems that scale trust, clarity, and execution without depending on any one person. Known as "the team whisperer" for surfacing invisible friction and helping teams move faster, he brings 20+ years of experience across technology, government, education, and global humanitarian operations, including co-leading enterprise leadership-development strategy at USAID for a workforce of 2,000+ staff across 60+ countries. He is a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach, EQ-i 2.0 certified, and holds a Secret security clearance. Matt is the author of Field Tested (2024) and CLUTCH: How Leaders Build Systems That Run Without Them (2026).

KEYNOTE TOPICS

You Are the Bottleneck

SIGNATURE TALK · SIXTY MINUTES · FOR FOUNDERS AND SENIOR LEADERS

Most leaders who become the bottleneck got there by being very good in one gear and never leaving it, so every decision, fix and rescue still runs through them. VOICES to find the gear you are stuck in, DELEGATE to hand the work over for good, and everyone leaves with one thing to hand over on Monday.

Twenty People and a Few Million Dollars

SIGNATURE TALK · SIXTY MINUTES · FOR FOUNDERS AND EARLY LEADERSHIP TEAMS

Somewhere around twenty people, the habits that built the company start costing it: the founder still knows everything, and nothing is written down because it never had to be. The six cylinders of CREATE, and the room leaves knowing which one to build first, before the next round of hiring makes the gap expensive.

The Only Part Engineered to Slip

KEYNOTE · FOR FOUNDERS AND EXECUTIVE TEAMS

Why emotional intelligence is a mechanical necessity rather than a soft skill. The clutch is the one part of a car designed to slip, and that is exactly what lets the engine and the wheels work together.

Engine Light On

KEYNOTE · FOR LEADERSHIP TEAMS AND CONFERENCES

The audience runs the free diagnostic live, in the room: a few short questions, about two minutes, and everyone leaves knowing which warning light is on for their team.

Nobody Trains the Expert

KEYNOTE · FOR TECHNICAL AND PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Why the best individual contributor becomes the most expensive bottleneck, and what it takes to turn an expert into a leader on purpose instead of by accident.

Road Conditions

KEYNOTE · FOR PUBLIC-SECTOR AND MISSION-DRIVEN TEAMS

Naming the conditions a team is actually driving in, then handing people the decision modes that fit them, so choices stop queuing at the top.

Take Two Weeks Off

SHORT-FORM KEYNOTE · EIGHTEEN MINUTES · TEDX, OPENING OR CLOSING SLOT

One question, eighteen minutes, no frameworks. What would happen to your organization if you took two weeks off without your phone?

No Average Brain

KEYNOTE · FOR SCHOOLS, HR AND PEOPLE TEAMS

What changes when systems stop assuming one kind of mind. A neuroinclusive look at how decisions, meetings and handoffs are designed.

WORKSHOPS & FACILITATION

The Owner's Manual Workshop

ONE TEAM · THREE HOURS

A team turns its On-Board Diagnostic data into personal Owner's Manuals, then swaps them, which is the part that changes how the team works on Monday. Best for intact teams that already work together and want to work better together.

Hand Over the Keys

DELEGATION SEMINAR · UP TO 300 PARTICIPANTS · NINETY MINUTES

Built on DELEGATE: define the win, establish the way, list the guardrails, expect the process, give the right support, agree on checkpoints, transfer ownership, encourage growth. Best for managers at every level, all-staff sessions and conference breakouts.

GoodeStart

NEWLY PROMOTED · NINETY DAYS · COHORTS OF FIVE TO TEN

The first ninety days done on purpose, for someone excellent at the work who has just been handed a team. A dual-assessment baseline, four individual coaching sessions, a thirteen-week curriculum and live leadership labs. Best for organizations that promote from within.

Building the Bench

EMERGING LEADERS · SIX-MONTH COHORT

A cohort of leaders at the same altitude in different parts of the organization. The question is not whether your leaders are good; it is how many deep you are at each position. Best for succession planning and leadership pipelines.

Decision Rights & Governance

6C WORKING SESSION

A live, unresolved decision brought into the room and walked through the 6C Decision Compass, so who decides what becomes explicit rather than assumed. Best for executive teams, school cabinets and boards.

INTRODUCTION SCRIPT

"Our next speaker has spent the last two decades helping founders and leaders build organizations that don't fall apart the moment they step away. He's coached more than 50 C-suite leaders across 20 companies, three federal agencies, and four schools – and before that, co-led enterprise leadership strategy for a 2,000-person workforce at USAID, spanning more than 60 countries. He's a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach, and the author of CLUTCH: How Leaders Build Systems That Run Without Them. Please welcome Matt Goode, founder of Goode Design & Consulting."

WHAT AUDIENCES SAY

> "I spend my days building dashboards, so I was skeptical of the metaphor. What surprised me was how quickly it changed the way I think about leadership data. It helped me separate the signals that actually predict performance from the ones that simply make me feel informed. That's a higher bar than most leadership books even try to clear."
> Marcus – Founder, Data & Analytics

> "This book landed on my desk through someone I trust. I expected another leadership book telling me things I already knew. About twenty pages in, I realized I was underlining passages instead of arguing with them. That's rare for me."
> David – President, Family Business

> "I read the delegation chapter on a flight and tried the framework in my next one-on-one before we landed. The conversation was noticeably better – not because I had a new script, but because I walked in with a better question. That doesn't happen with many leadership books."
>
> Sarah – Operations Leader, Technology

WHAT WORKSHOP TEAMS SAY

> "I found Matt to be considerate and conscientious of our unique needs at the time, and brought a degree of creativity and clarity to the exercise that matched our objectives for the events. Professional, insightful, and especially skillful on the floor, facilitating some difficult discussions. Would readily work with him again and would wholeheartedly endorse him to others considering his services."
> Christopher – Team Leader, Emergency Management

> "I had the great privilege of working with Matt on a series of team building sessions over the course of two years. Matt supported my technical team to have difficult discussions and reach conclusions, organize ourselves better, and coached us on important self-care practices for people working in the humanitarian sphere."
>
> Maggie – Global Leader, International Development

> "I kept catching myself thinking, 'That would never work here.' We don't have the luxury of hiring quickly or making clean personnel changes. But the framework was flexible enough that I could adapt it to my organization, and the workshop showed exactly how to make that translation. That made all the difference."
> Priya – Owner, Professional Services

> "As someone who leads people and culture, I'm usually translating leadership books into language managers can actually use. This was one of the few times I didn't have to. I used one of the coaching prompts almost word for word in a difficult conversation, and it changed the tone of the discussion immediately."

WHO I HELP & WHERE

Founders stuck in decision loops, ops leaders scaling without structure, Heads of People growing leadership capacity, and new leaders in high-stakes transitions.

At USAID, facilitated strategic leadership retreats and cross-functional alignment sessions in high-stakes humanitarian and national-security contexts, and co-led enterprise leadership-development strategy for a globally distributed workforce of 2,000+ staff across 60+ countries – including the ALAC Mentorship Program, which improved first-time team-lead outcomes by 25% and cut time-to-readiness by roughly 30%.

At The McDonogh School, coached 40+ faculty in instructional design and leadership, and ran an annual Technology BootCamp onboarding 100+ staff each year.

Cross-sector fluency across K–12 education, federal humanitarian assistance, and private-sector founder coaching.

LEADERSHIP INFRASTRUCTURE CONSULTING

ABOUT GOODE DESIGN & CONSULTING

Goode Design & Consulting (GDC) is a leadership infrastructure consultancy founded by Matt Goode in February 2023. GDC works with founders, leadership teams, and schools to build the systems, clarity, and self-awareness that let organizations scale trust and execution without depending on any one person. GDC has coached 50+ C-suite leaders across 20 companies, 3 federal organizations, and 4 schools.

Matt brings 20+ years of experience across technology, government, education, and global humanitarian operations. He is a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach and EQ-i 2.0 certified, and holds a Secret security clearance. He is the author of Field Tested (2024) and CLUTCH: How Leaders Build Systems That Run Without Them (2026); full bibliography at thatsgoodedesign.com.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Leadership System Design & Fractional COO – installs the CLUTCH Leadership Operating System (CREATE the engine, VOICES the gearbox, 6C the compass, DELEGATE the GPS – with EQ as the clutch) for founder-led and growth-stage organizations.

Executive Coaching – 1:1 retainer-based coaching grounded in the On-Board Diagnostic (OBD), which reads CliftonStrengths and EQ-i 2.0 against each other rather than side by side. Every engagement starts with the OBD.

CliftonStrengths for Schools – institutional, Gallup-certified strengths programming for educational organizations.

Cohorts & Workshops – GoodeStart, the first ninety days for the newly promoted; Building the Bench, a cohort for emerging leaders; the Owner's Manual workshop; and the Delegation seminar.

Keynotes & Speaking – six keynotes drawn from CLUTCH, from The Only Part Engineered to Slip to No Average Brain, plus professional-development facilitation.

REPRESENTATIVE ENGAGEMENTS

Independent K–12 school (Mid-Atlantic, 17-year engagement)
Department leadership development, CliftonStrengths cohort facilitation, and institutional culture design; coached 40+ faculty in leadership and instructional design.

Outcome: sustained leadership pipeline; measurable improvement in faculty retention and cross-department collaboration.

U.S. federal agency, multi-service engagement
Delivered a full-spectrum leadership development program for a supervisory and staff cohort: diagnostic assessments (CliftonStrengths + EQ-i 2.0), 1:1 executive coaching, a team workshop, and a delegation-training seminar.

Outcome: a shared leadership-diagnostic language adopted across the division, with an individualized development plan for every participant.

International humanitarian relief agency (federal service, 2023–2025)
Led enterprise leadership-development strategy and built a redesigned leadership-onboarding track for a globally distributed, mission-critical workforce. Multi-year team-building engagement included facilitated sessions for technical and emergency-management staff.

Outcome: improved leadership readiness and alignment by 25%.

Founder-led businesses and operations teams (private sector)
Diagnostic assessments, 1:1 coaching bundles, delegation and decision-making frameworks.

Outcome: improved team clarity, faster decision velocity, and reduced leadership bottlenecks.

Client names withheld per engagement confidentiality; identifying details and references available upon request.

DIFFERENTIATORS

Dual-instrument diagnostic synthesis – the On-Board Diagnostic (OBD) reads CliftonStrengths and EQ-i 2.0 against each other rather than side by side; neither instrument produces this synthesis on its own.

Proprietary, published methodology – the CLUTCH framework (CREATE, VOICES, 6C Compass, DELEGATE) is documented in CLUTCH (2026), and built through 20 years of practitioner research and applied client work.

Cross-sector fluency – K–12 education, federal humanitarian assistance, and private-sector founder coaching.

Neuroinclusive design lens – built from two decades applying Universal Design for Learning (UDL) in K–12 instructional design, now applied to leadership systems that work across cognitive styles.

Sole delivery by Principal – all assessment, coaching, and facilitation delivered or directly supervised by Matt Goode; no subcontracted delivery.
